Summary

Hello! My name is Rashid. I'm doing graduation from Galgotias University with a B.tech in Computer science and engineering. My college gives me the best opportunities to explore the world, gain knowledge from existing technologies, and find solutions to many problems related to software and applications.

I'm on the lookout for an opportunity that'll let me merge my passion for Computer application and Software development, and kickstart a career in Software development. I enjoy the challenge of working with different types of people and coming up with solutions to difficult problems. It helps that I have a knack for staying calm during a storm!
